

Preview: Bees looking to rebound from 11-0 loss in rematch with Brockton

Saturday's 11-0 home loss to the Brockton Rox in the teams' first meeting of the season wasn't pretty for New Britain. But, luckily for the Bees, they won't have to wait long to put the defeat behind them. This Sunday, June 6 the Bees will face the Rox again, looking to exact their revenge on the diamond.

The Bees come into Sunday's matchup with a 2-2 road record and a 5-3 overall mark. Brockton meanwhile sits at 6-1, good for first place in the FCBL. Their only meeting this season resulted in an 11-0 mercy-rule-defeat for the Bees.

Ryan Doherty will be on the mound for New Britain. Doherty has made two appearances for the Bees this season, both in relief, and pitched very well. The 5-foot-10 lefty has pitched 4.2 scoreless innings, with three walks, one hit and three strikeouts.

The Rox have a number of strong offensive contributors. Infielder Erick Ramirez is slashing .345 on the season while left-fielder Michael Golankiewicz tortured New Britain on Saturday. The pair combined for four hits and seven of the team's 11 RBI's, five of which came from the bat of Golankiewicz. The Bees will need to keep those two in check in order to ensure a victory Sunday.

The game will begin at 1:35 p.m. Eastern.
